

BARCHUS ADDRESSES

1885 - 1959

Eliza Barchus maintained a retail studio for several years during the early years of her career. However, by the turn of the century she gave up commercial space and operated the studio out of her residence. Barchus seldom dated her work. Therefore, an artist stamp on the reverse of a painting can help in determining an approximate date of creation. This is more true for early pieces as addresses change more frequently.

The table below provides known references to addresses used by Barchus. More than one entry for a year means that multiple references have been located for that year.
